It is stated that pleuro pneumonia has again broken out in Ansonia, New York, on the farm of Mr. A. P. Bates. As before, it seems to be yielding readily to the free use of carbolic acid, which is the remedy applied. Mr. Bates has lost three cows, but five oxen, which have been sick, are likely to recover.

The body of Mrs. Thomas Taft, who died in Elgin about three weeks since in a mysterious manner, has been exhumed and microscopically examined by the medical fraternity of that city. Muscles from different parts of the body showed trichinae to exist, not only in large numbers, but still alive, some three weeks after the interment. The case excites much interest, as it is the only one of the kind ever having been known in that section.

Mr. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, writes a private note to the Tribune, denying that he was in any way connected with the Tribune, or ever had conversation with him, or any gentleman connected with him, in reference to the Tribune, or had any transactions with the Philadelphia Post, except of a purely business nature.

The President, on Monday, informed a leading member of the House Committee on Foreign Relations, that in every case where our Government had requested the Cuban authorities to release persons unjustly arrested, our requests had invariably been promptly acceded to, and he could see no good reason for interference in the affairs of that island at present. He said the Spanish authorities had assured our Government of their ability to suppress the Cuban insurrection in a short time, and it was best to wait before recognizing the insurgents.

The President yesterday appointed Jacob D. Enos, a colored man postmaster at Valdosta, Georgia. The State Senate has been playing "Much Ado about Nothing." After some sharp practice between the friends and enemies of the Interest Bill, on Monday, each endeavoring to break up a quorum when in a minority, the party left in possession ordered the arrest of all the absentees. On Tuesday the Senate, by a decided vote, declared the arrest "irregular and unauthorized." It looks as if the "Most potent, grave, and reverend" Senators had been indulging in boys' play.—C. Herald.

Another accusation, says that able and high toned journal, the New York Times, brought against General Grant by his enemies is that he has appointed great numbers of his relations, family connections and personal friends to office. This is equally untrue, with the other charge. General Grant came into office a comparative stranger to the modes and habits of political life, and to the men from whom he would be expected to select his agents and assistants in the administration of public affairs. He was not prepared to surrender the constitutional rights and functions of his office, and to accept the dictation of political leaders or parties as to the appointments he should make. And he felt the necessity of appointing men whom he knew to be honest and on whom he could fully rely. What could be more natural, under such circumstances, than that he should look first to those whom he knew best,—that he should trust rather to his own acquaintance with those whom he might know, than to the assurances or advice of third parties, or to impressions gathered from vague and unmeaning letters of recommendation. It is what every man would do in a similar case; and, even if he should feel at liberty to require a personal service, or reward a personal friend, by an appointment to office, his offense would be one which all his predecessors have at times committed, and which no man of ordinary fairness would find it difficult to forgive.

Such a disposition might easily be indulged too far, and the privilege is liable to abuse. But we see no evidence that either mistake has been made by General Grant. The hue and cry about his appointment of family relatives to office is absurdly extravagant. He has done nothing of the kind to any unusual or culpable extent. We venture to say, without any special inquiry, that not half a dozen relatives of General Grant have been appointed by him to any place of emolument, since he came into office. Several family connections have been placed in confidential positions, for which it has always been usual to select the most intimate friends and the closest relations; but beyond this General Grant has been, to say the least, quite as abstemious as any of his predecessors. The idea that a man in high office must regard with special distrust, and treat with special neglect, every man in any way related to him, or to any branch of his family, is not only absurd in itself, but is never treated otherwise, except by those who have some special object to serve, or some special grudge to revenge, by insisting upon such a rule of conduct.

PERSONAL.—We were most agreeably and completely surprised, on last Tuesday evening, at the Depot, to meet Hon. Martin Welker, of Wooster, O., who was on his way to Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Welker represents the 14th (Ohio) District, in Congress, and is now serving his third term. He is an accomplished gentleman, a faithful, efficient, and honest Representative. The fact that he was elected for the third term, shows how highly he is esteemed, and appreciated by his more than ordinarily intelligent constituency. We hope our people will have an opportunity of hearing him next fall.

The Ohio Legislature has decided to adjourn to-morrow, and the announcement will afford great relief to the people of Ohio. This dying Legislature has been in session a remarkable length of time, and accomplished but little good; but as we rather prefer to have charity for the dead, and to remember kindly only their virtues, we refrain from indulging in any denunciations over its corpse, which day after to-morrow, will be interred in a grave eternally hopeless of any resurrection.

Farwell! farwell! a long farewell! to the last Democratic Legislature of Ohio!

The President has caused Judge Breckinridge, Surveyor of the Port of St. Louis, to be notified that his resignation would be accepted. It is quite likely that Felix Costee, a German Radical, will be appointed in place of Breckinridge.

It is ascertained that the recent dispatches, received at the office of the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, from Mexico are of no special importance. The real estate policy of ex-Secretary Seward has played out.
